HENNIKER, February 15, 1897.

REPORT OF SCHOOL BOARD.

In presenting the annual report, by law required, we believe we can truthfully say that our schools, under the many helpful influences brought to bear upon them, are doing better work year by year, and that their average condition has never been superior to the present. The high school for the spring term, which terminated the school year, continued under the instruction of its former teachers, and, at its close, graduated a class of ten young ladies with great credit to all concerned. A few days before the opening of the fall term the board were confronted with the unexpected resignation of Prof. Pugsley, who accepted an appointment at a larger salary in Lyndonville, Vt. Out of fifty or more applications for the position thus made vacant, we selected Prof. O. C. Evans, of Portland, Me., a graduate of Bowdoin college and of large experience in all grades of school work. His ripe scholarship, dignified bearing, and executive ability have proved him to be just the man needed to maintain the high standard both in instruction and discipline which had previously been attained.

The school was fortunate in retaining the services of Miss Merrick as first assistant, who has continued the good record of her previous years. The addition to the four years' course of study of a preparatory year (for which no tuition is charged) made necessary the employment of a second assistant, for one half of the time, the remainder of the day being devoted to work in the primary department. To successfully instruct small children in their first school year for one hour and the next to interest and profit classes in the high school, would seem to require considerable versatility; the progress of both grades has been such as to indicate that Miss Sharpe has been equal to the task.

The division schools have generally been continued twenty-nine weeks. Mrs. Belle B. Peasley has been employed during the whole of this time to instruct the few pupils in division 2 at her home at a less expense than would have been the cost of maintaining a school at the school house. In division 3 two terms of ten weeks each have been taught. As it appeared but three pupils would attend during the winter the board refused to continue the school. As our action was severely criticised in certain localities we would state for the information of parties interested that during the decade in which the town system has been in operation that division, represented by an average of three and two-thirds pupils, has been given a school year of 21.7 weeks at an average cost per pupil per year of $36.52, while for the last ten years of the district system, with an average attendance of nine and three-fourths pupils, they secured but twenty and three-tenths weeks at an average cost per year for each of $10.43, thus proving conclusively that so far as school funds are concerned there has been no inclination on the part of the board "To put everything into the village."

In division 6 it appearing that the attendance during the winter would be small, an arrangement was made with Mr. Wood to take the few pupils who would have attended, together with several high school pupils by team, to the new school building at the village. While the expense has been but little less than the cost to maintain a school we believe the advantage to the scholars attending has been greater than would have been possible at home. Pupils need the stimulus of numbers and the confidence that comes only by competition with their fellows to secure the greatest benefit. The maintenance of very small schools is against the judgment of the board; yet without the cordial co-operation of the parents we can do but little toward improvement in this direction. During the past year we have especially emphasized the necessity of a better knowledge of English and have striven to impress upon teachers and pupils the advantage of a well balanced education. We believe that number study has been given undue prominence in our schools and hope to see more of their patrons who will not gauge the success of a term wholly by the test of "Getting through the arithmetic."

The second annual teachers' examination was held at the high school room, August 15. Ten resident teachers appeared and five others from outside the state were given the same questions at the office of the board on their arrival. We hope future examinations, if they are held, will show a higher average percentage of correct answers. As authorized at our last annual school meeting an effort was made for a general observance of Arbor Day. As it fell on a school holiday less work was accomplished than might have been expected under other circumstances; quite a degree of interest was aroused and many trees planted. Especial credit is due our honored fellow citizen, Henry Davis, who devoted the entire day to procuring and planting trees upon the new school lot at the village. Prof. Pugsley and the high school boys also gave powerful aid. The thanks of the board are due the friends in other parts of the town for the interest shown and the labor performed.

We point with pride to what we believe to be the longest roll of honor ever shown in a school report in this town. When we consider that among the 127 names found thereon quite a number have kept their record good from two to seven years, we are led to believe that few towns in the state can equal it. The high school being still in session at the time this report is written, its roll of honor and statistics are for the school year ending June, 1896.

REPORT OF TRUSTEES OF HENNIKER FREE PUBLIC LIBRARY.

The trustees have made their annual examination of books, and find them in good condition, showing evidence of faithful care, with about the average number that need to be rebound.

There are now on the shelves 2,046 volumes of bound books. There are about 350 families in town; 178 families have patronized the library during the year, representing fully one half the population, showing that there is an active interest and an earnest appreciation of the benefits derived from its use.

Gifts of books and magazines have been received from Willis Howe, Miss E. D. Proctor, Miss Georgia Patterson, John B. Clarke Co., Loyal Temperance Legion of Henniker, and from several citizens of the town, and the usual state and congressional reports and documents, and the usual reduction in rent has been given by Mr. Emerson.

The trustees gratefully acknowledge the material assistance which they have received from the responses to their request for lists of books which the patrons of the library desire to have placed upon the shelves, and hope that a larger number will contribute for the next year; but would suggest that the lists be sent in early in the season, and remember that the funds will allow the purchase of about 125 books annually, and in order that all may be represented, only a certain per cent. can be taken from each list, but the lists will be held for future use.

Respectfully submitted,

HENRY A. EMERSON,
WALTER A. CONNOR,
CHARLOTTE I. RICE,
E. MARIA COGSWELL,
LEANDER W. COGSWELL,

Trustees.
